COUNCIL MEMBERS VOTE FOR DAYLIGHT SAVING

ANTIOCH BUSINESS CLUB WILL SPONSOR FLOOD RELIEF BALL

Chuck Bricker's Collegians to Return for the Big Charity Event

Much important business was transacted by the Antioch Business Club at the meeting held Monday night at Bert Roberts' Merry Glen Hotel on Lake Marie, where members and guests enjoyed a fine New England style dinner. Due to many counter attractions there was only a small number of club members present, but the session was interesting and those who attended feel that much progress was made in furthering the projects of the club for civic improvement.

To Give Dance for Flood Relief

One of the most commendable things done at the meeting Monday night was the unanimous agreement of the club members to sponsor a dance to be given at the Antioch Palace on Wednesday night of next week for the benefit of sufferers in the flooded area of the south. The move was started when Richard Macek tendered the use of the Palace and his services for this worthy purpose and his offer was readily accepted by the Business Club. Antioch firemen, always ready to render service in any worthy cause have volunteered to co-operate, and the American Red Cross society have pledged their services to assist in making the big charity event a success. Announcement of the dance is to be broadcasted from many stations and a great crowd is expected to attend.

100,000 Maps to Advertise Region

Business interests in and around Antioch are uniting to advertise the Illinois lake region as never before, it was learned when the committee on distribution of maps of the region reported the sale of over fifty thousand maps which business men and resort owners are buying at a nominal cost. The maps are intended for free distribution to acquaint strangers with the wonderful recreational facilities the region affords. The North Shore company, quick to recognize the value of the map plan of advertising, placed their order voluntarily for 10,000 and have promised to give distribution on all maps furnished them. The Business Club voted to purchase 10,000 maps for free distribution.

Parking Space Needed

In anticipation of the usual congested traffic conditions here during the summer months, club members will bring to the attention of the village council the great need of additional parking space for cars and traffic and parking regulations. During the next several weeks, with paving improvements in progress on Lake, Victoria and Harden streets, the Main street traffic will be a problem. Council members will receive the co-operation of Business Club members in the matter of providing adequate parking grounds.

Majority of Business Club members favor the adoption of daylight saving time, it was learned at the meeting.

Antioch Voices Please Kenosha Director

Prof. C. E. Neilsen, director of the Civic Chorus at Kenosha is well pleased with the voices he has heard at the chorus choir meeting in the Methodist Church Wednesday evenings. He predicts a great future for this group of singers which he hopes will develop into a Chorus Chorus such as Kenosha has. Said the Professor, "You have wonderful material to work with. A little training will work wonders."

Mr. Neilsen comes to Antioch well recommended, having directed the Kenosha Conservatory of music for many years. Private instruction in voice is being arranged for which will give Antioch folks an opportunity to develop their talents without that long journey out of town.

New And Greater Loon Lake To Rise From Tornado Ruins

New Cottages now Under Construction at Summer Colony to Cost $50,000

Preparations are being made and in many instances work is already under way in the rebuilding of the cottages, stores and other buildings wrecked around Loon Lake. With the storm that struck the region only ten days ago, Loon Lake already is beginning to take on an appearance of activity and buildings are being replaced with great rapidity.

The first work to be done after the storm was the repairing of the Wolf ice house at which temporary repairs were completed within twenty-four hours time. Its owner, Fred Wolf, is to tear the old structure down and replace it with a new building as soon as the summer season is over.

Immediate steps were also taken to repair the damage done at the Horse store where falling cement blocks and rain had caused a heavy loss. Here the work is being rushed to completion and everything will be in readiness for the summer business.

Owners of demolished summer homes were busy over the weekend clearing away the wreckage of the storm and in many instances work has already been begun on the construction of new homes. Plans have been made for the rebuilding of the E. J. Reed, Ruinsey, Dillik, Nelson, Brillling, Kupfermeister, Bauer and Frank Newbauer cottages. Charles Kester will replace his home which was damaged by the storm, with a new $15,000 summer residence.

Fred Wolf, whose cottage was destroyed by the tornado is already at work and will have his cottage complete by the middle of July. Mr. Wolf plans to duplicate the original structure which was a $4,500.00 cottage.

Garages at the Cermak and Wolf stores are already complete and the work of rebuilding garages, boat houses and small structures is progressing with a rapidity limited only by the available supply of carpenters.

Crews of men have been busy for the past week straightening the trees that were bent over by the force of the storm and clearing away those that were uprooted.

That rebuilding is to be undertaken on a larger and better scale than before is evidenced by the fact that plans for building already under way involve a sum in excess of $50,000 with much more to be done soon.

HIGH SCHOOL MUSIC ORGANIZATIONS ARE GIVEN RECOGNITION

Victory Celebrated with Program Last Friday Evening

The victorious musical organizations of the Antioch High School gave their program at the high school to an appreciative audience last Friday evening.

The orchestra, glee clubs and chorus sang the numbers that won them the first prize at the state musical contest at Normal. The program was completed by other selections developed in the schools this year.

Tuesday evening the Antioch High organizations went to Libertyville to participate in the four school "Sing" held at that place. Gurnee, Wauconda and Libertyville were to have been represented but Wauconda was unable to attend. Gurnee and Libertyville were each represented by their band, and Gurnee presented a boys' chorus and Libertyville a piano solo and a saxophone quartet. Antioch presented numbers by the orchestra, boys' and girls' glee clubs and mixed chorus.

Wednesday evening by special invitation the local choruses went to Arlington Heights to participate in the "Sing" held by the four southern schools of the conference, Palatine, Arlington Heights, Barrington and Franklin Park.

Improvement Board Approves Contract

A special meeting of the Board of Local Improvements was called on last Thursday for the purpose of approving the contract let recently to the firm of Darrow and Barron for the paving improvements in Antioch. Since, under the provisions of the state law, ten days must elapse between the letting of the contract and final approval by the board, this was the first date upon which action can be taken.

The Wetzel Chevrolet Sales Co. of Antioch have unloaded two carloads of new Chevrolets this week for local distribution. All of the cars received are already sold.

Waukegan: Plans under way for erection of 10 story hotel at Washington street.

NEW ORDINANCE WILL PREVENT POLLUTION OF FOX RIVER SYSTEM

Directors of Conservancy District Have Great Power

That the Board of Trustees of the Fox River Conservancy District of the State of Illinois is a body of great power is evidenced by the first ordinance which appears in this issue of the News. The ordinance which goes into effect in ten days after the publication of the notice covers the entire Lake region and provides for full control of the sewage and refuse disposal of the district.

It requires approval in writing on the part of the board of trustees of all operations which involve disposal of any refuse. Its main provisions are:

that no extension of any existing system can be made without approval of the board which will then prescribe the method of disposal both for the original system and the extension; that no new outlet may be installed without treatment works and that plans for such works must be submitted for the approval of the board; that no treatment works of any sort may be built without the approval of the board; that no wastes may be discharged without their approval; that no water supply or water purification works may be installed without their permission; that no factory, industrial plant, treatment works or business which produces any form of waste can operate unless such wastes are treated to make them harmless to public health and to fish life; and plans for all such must be subject to approval of the board.

The bill calls for the appropriation of $100,000 to indemnify owners for cattle slaughtered as the result of tests made under the authority of the federal bureau of animal husbandry.

Tuberculosis testing in the past year has resulted in the weeding out of hundreds of reactors in Lake county. This has entailed an enormous expense which thus far has fallen entirely on the local farmers, and they are looking forward with much anticipation to favorable consideration by the legislature of Senator Swift's measure.

Lake county farmers will recover thousands lost through the slaughtering of tubercular cattle. If a measure introduced into the Senate last Wednesday by Senator Swift of Lake Forest becomes a law.

The bill calls for the appropriation of $100,000 to indemnify owners for cattle slaughtered as the result of tests made under the authority of the federal bureau of animal husbandry.

Antioch High School Girl Wins First Honors

First place in Junior Shorthand at the North West Conference Contest held at Libertyville last week was won by Irma Hanke of the local school. The team as a whole won fourth place, being outranked by Palatine High School, which was the winner of first place, and the Barrington and Gurnee High School teams which tied for second place.

Miss Hanke won second place in the district contest two weeks ago and will represent Antioch and the district at the state contest to be held at Normal Saturday.

H. S. JUDGING TEAM BRING HOME HONORS

Win First in Livestock, Second in Poultry Judging at Hinckley Last Friday

The Antioch Township High School Livestock Judging team won first honors for their school last Friday at the North West Conference held at Hinckley, Illinois, by defeating teams from fourteen other schools.

High score for all contests was won by Gordon Martin, a Lake Villa boy, who is a member of the local high school team, and it was due to him mainly that Antioch placed so high. Philip Simpson, Lake Villa, and Donald Cremin and Lewis Galler of Avon township were the other members of the Antioch team. Phillip Simpson ranked fourth among the fifty-six contestants.

This team will represent Antioch and Lake county at the Livestock Judging contest that is to be held at the University of Illinois June 24th and 25th.

The poultry team, consisting of William Schwenk, Elmer Barthel and Howard Mastne, ranked second among the fourteen schools competing. In this contest Elmer Barthel of Salem, a member of the local team, ranked second highest among all contestants.

The grain judging team, consisting of Richard Kennedy, Harold Kennedy and Elmer Monnier ranked third; and the fat stock team, of which Lloyd Atwell, Arthur Hunter and Roy McNeill were the members, ranked eleventh.

Much credit for the success of the Agriculture teams is due to C. L. Kull, the Smith Hughes Instructor in Vocational Agriculture in the Antioch High School, who has worked tirelessly with the team in order that they might develop such proficiency.

Dick Lyons Given First Promoters License in Co.

Dick Lyons has recently received from the Illinois Athletic Commission the first license to promote boxing and wrestling ever received by any one in Lake county.

He deposited his bond of $5,000 and obtained thereby full permission to conduct boxing and wrestling matches in the city of Waukegan. He plans to hold a thirty round boxing card soon and has announced that he will cooperate with the American Legion in producing bouts of the highest possible quality.

Promptness Will Improve Service

PRESIDENT CASTS DECIDING VOTE WHEN TRUSTEES TIE

Books of Village to Be Audited by Public Accountant

Antioch will adopt daylight saving time, according to the decision of the village council Tuesday night, and the new time schedule is to be in effect from June 1 to October 1. President Pollock cast the deciding vote for the measure when the trustees were deadlocked on the question, three to three. The call for a vote followed the presentation of a petition bearing the names of 204 for the change to 102 against it. A canvass of the business firms in Antioch indicated that merchants favored the time change nearly four to one. The petition is at the office of the clerk and may be signed by any legal voter of Antioch who may desire to express himself on the matter before final action is taken next Tuesday night when the ordinance authorizing the time change will be passed.

It is understood that the new time has been adopted by Lake Villa, Grayslake, and Fox Lake. With its adoption by Antioch, daylight saving time will be practically universal throughout the towns along the North Shore line.

This will be the first time since the World War that Antioch has run under a daylight saving schedule.

Books to be Audited

Acting upon the suggestion of the auditing committee the council voted to have the books of the village audited, and the job was given to S. E. Sims, the expert public accountant of Pontiac, Illinois, who recently completed auditing Lake county books at Waukegan. E. O. Hawkins, Frank Dunn and H. J. You are the members of the auditing committee, Mr. Hawkins being the chairman.

Will Enforce Parking Ordinance

The street and alley committee has been authorized to mark streets for parking and to see that the provisions of the parking ordinance are enforced. The matter of parking lights is being considered. Leaving cars parked on side streets and on darker portions of Main street is considered dangerous and it is expected that some action will be taken to stop the practice.

It's time to buy city license plates, according to officials who are preparing to see that the vehicle tax ordinance is enforced.

The LEADING LADY

by GERALDINE BONNER

COPYRIGHT BY THE BOBBINS-MERRILL CO.

The next day she had been a prey to a rising tide of alarm. From behind a curtain she had watched the search of the island and realized a hunt through the top floor must follow. Every sign of her presence was obliterated and she studied her surroundings for a hiding place. The windows, opened half way to air the rooms, suggested the possibility of a cache outside. Climbing up the wall and extending to the roof was the great wisteria vine, its outspread branches twisted into ropes and covered with a mantle of dense foliage. The main trunk passed close to the window of the room that faced the stair-head, the place where she sat waiting for ascending footsteps. When Anne had made her visit, she had heard the first creak of the stairs and crawled out under the raised window. With a foothold on the gutter she had slipped behind the curtain of the vine, her hands gripped round its limbs. Even from the garden below she thought it would have been impossible to detect her. Of Anne's whispered pleadings she had heard nothing; she had supposed the intruder one of the men. When they came up she had had plenty of time to hide for she had heard their footsteps when they came along the hall.

After the visit of Dawson and Williams she knew the danger of detection increased with every hour. Also the necessity for food could not be denied much longer. The one chance left her was to get away that night, make what she felt would be a last attempt to gain the freedom that meant life to her. The darkness was in her favor and she resolved to slip from the house and cross the bed of the channel below the causeway.

At the foot of the stairs she had hesitated, undecided whether to go by the living room or the kitchen. Finally she chose the way she knew best, where she was familiar with the disposition of the furniture. As the flashlight burst she had made a noiseless rush for the stairs, was in the upper passage when the woman's door flew open and Dawson came running along the hall below. The darkness and noise had covered her flight, but in her cry at the top door she had crouched at the head of the stairs sick with uncertainty and dread. The concerted shrieks of the women had come eerily to her—cries of her own name. She guessed then a picture had been taken, they had seen it, and she waited, not knowing what was coming. She had stayed there a long time, listening with every sense alert, heard silence gathering over the house and then back to her place by the window:

"I hadn't given up, I had the spirit to fight still. But it was so awful not knowing anything, what they were doing. If they'd found out I was alive. And what was I to do—stay here, get out on the island? I couldn't tell, I was all in the dark, and I felt my nerve weaken for the first time. And then I heard your voice, Anne, 'I'm coming to help you,' it said." She drew back and looked with solemn meaning into the other's face. "You meant it? You will help me?"

"Syll, you know it."

"There's only one way you can."

"Any way."

"Let me go."

"Never tell—that you were here—that it wasn't you!"

"Yes, let me stay dead. Everybody believes it, let them go on believing. It was death, my life since that night when Jim disappeared. It wasn't worth going on with. Now I can go to him, be with him, there'll be no one watching Sybill Saunders any more. Even if I looked like myself it would be only the chance resemblance to a murdered woman. And do I look like myself?"

She turned her face to the light, bright now with the coming of the sun. Below the smooth sweep of hair across her forehead it was so changed in its patina and thinness, so bereft of its rounded curves and delicate freshness that it was only a dim reflection of Sybill—the face of a wayward lad in whom the same blood ran.

The hawke worked by the suffering that had so transfigured it drove like a knife to Anne's heart. She felt the prick of tears under her eyelids and lowered her head—Sybill gripping at her happiness with the fierce courage of despair, and now Sybill going, breaking all ties, going forever. For a moment she could not speak and the other, thinking her silence meant reluctance to agree, caught at her hands, pleading, with breathless urgency:

"They've accepted everything—it's all explained and ended. Joe has gone, dropped out of sight. Boys of his kind do that, do something they're ashamed of and disown. What good would it do Stokes or Bassett or the police to know it was Joe who was killed? It's not lies, it's not being false to anyone, it's only to keep silent."

sharp silhouette, running on the slippery stones, then clouds swept across the moon and in the darkness it gained the shore and the sheltering trees.

Dogs scented its passage and broke out barking; the sound following its progress till the houses were passed and the road stretched on between quiet fields to the railway.

Some people heard the dogs—light-sleeping villagers who turned and wondered if a tramp was about and lapsed into comfortable slumber. In the stillness of the room where Stokes lay unconscious, drawing toward the hour of deliverance, the barking sounded loud and indistinct. The nurse was disturbed by it and went to the window and looked out, but Flora never heard it. Anne did and sat up in bed following it along the edge of the village till it died on the outskirts.

EPILOGUE

Three years later Bassett and Anne had a friend at dinner. He was a writer who had just returned from a successful lecture tour in Australia. On his way back he had ranged through the pleasant reaches of the South seas and had fallen under their spell—a little more money in his pocket and for him it would be a plantation on some isle of enchantment. Not the accessible places, they were already spoiled, steamers had come, jazz music, and tourists in pith helmets with red gingham were under your feet. It was the remoter islands, still out of the line of travel, where a trading schooner was the sole link with the world.

He had made a point of visiting some of these—lived an old tub with a native crew and gone battling about and had a glimpse of the real thing that Stevenson saw. And he enlarged on a particular island, the endmost of a scattered group, where he had found an American and his wife running a copra plantation. Delightful people called Whittier, he'd stayed several days with them in a long bamboo house on the edge of a lagoon—you couldn't imagine anything more beautiful.

After dinner, moving about in the sitting room, the guest had stopped before a photograph standing on a side table, picked it up and asked

"It's like that Mrs. Whittier I was telling you about. Just the same eyes—quite remarkably like, only she's a bit stouter and more mature. It might have been her picture when she was a girl."

When the evening was over Bassett escorted the guest to the door. On his way back to the sitting room he thought he would suggest to Anne that she put away the photograph—people noticed it and the subject kept coming up. It was evidently unbearably painful to her for she rarely spoke of it; that dark chapter in her life was a thing closed and sealed. He had the words on his lips as he entered the room and then saw that she held the picture in her hands and was looking intently at it, softly smiling, her expression tranquil, even happy. That was good—the wound had healed—so he said nothing.

But in that frame the Richmond hurler blew up, and with Schmalfeldt on base Lyle McDougall cracked out a long triple, and from then on Richmond was out of the running. ## Funeral Services Of Mrs. B. F. Naber Held At St. Peter's Friday

The funeral of Mrs. Elizabeth Naber, wife of B. F. Naber of Antioch was held at St. Peter's Catholic church last Friday morning, May 13, and the remains were laid to rest in Mt. Carmel cemetery.

Mrs. Naber was the daughter of Hugh and Katherine Brogan. She was born November 2, 1872, and married to Bernard F. Naber on the 26th of June 1895 at St. Patrick's church in Rosecrans, Illinois. To them two children were born, Helen Elizabeth, and Catherine Ethel who died in infancy. She was always a devout Catholic and took much comfort in her religion.

Eight years ago she suffered a stroke of paralysis while attending the funeral of her father. She was in poor health from that time until about a year ago when she seemed much improved. Her sudden death on May 10th was a terrible shock to the family and to the whole community.

She leaves to mourn her loss her husband, a daughter, Mrs. Lester Osmond, and Carl Naber; four grandchildren, Eileen, Lester, Bernard and Mary Osmond, besides a host of relatives and friends.

Work of wrecking the building is expected to be completed with great rapidity in order that the new mansion may be completed this season. The tract includes a considerable lake frontage and will be one of the show places of the region.

Anton Cermak, who is president of the Cook county board, and one of the most influential figures in the politics of the state, is already well known in this region because of his extensive real estate interests.

St. Ignatius Church Notes

Episcopal

Fifth Sunday after Easter. Calendar, 9:00 Church School, 10:00 Matins and Sermon.

This Sunday will be the first service that Mr. Dixon will have as an ordained minister of the church. The sermon will be on the ordination text, I Corinthians 2:2; "For I am determined to know nothing among you save Jesus Christ and Him crucified".

The service hours for church school and church have been moved forward one half hour to accomodate our Chicago friends and to make it more agreeable for the summer months. Be instant in season and out of season according to the advice of St. Paul. If we run our daily lives or business procedure as some of us regulate our religious responsibilities as to worship and active part in church during the summer months we would indeed be in a sorry fix. Do you remember the little boy who was going to summer vacation and knelt down to say his prayers for the last time before leaving and said, "Good bye God, I'll see you next fall." Loyalty to the church means just what it says and we are supposed to use common sense in our religious life.

BE BRIEF

The world is in a hurry; please be brief. Poor terminal facilities for authors and speakers often nullify all their excellent wisdom. A man may possess all kinds of useful knowledge, but fail in "discreting when to have done."

Brevity is the touchstone of success in any field. You may offend your customer, your reader or your hearer in one respect and please him in another. But if you tire him with your tediousness, you lose him altogether.

The newspaper leads the style today in pith and cogency and has educated the public to the expectation of receiving much in little. The well-executed cartoon will impart a whole philosophy of life at a glance, or provide silent comment on current events worth a column of words.

Brevity is the soul of wit. Yet they who have wit, or think they have, are in especial danger of saying too much. Some one has said: "It is better to say nothing and be thought a fool than to open the mouth and disbelieve all doubt."

Be brief!

Firestone Dealers

Have Purchased 100% More GUM-DIPPED TIRES

[This Year Compared With Same Period Last Year]

THE demand from car owners for Gum-Dipped Tires has given Firestone Dealers a large increase in volume enabling them to sell these tires to you at the lowest prices in history.

On the cars of motorists everywhere, these wonderful tires are delivering unheard-of long mileage with greater safety and comfort.

The Firestone Balloon Tread, scientifically designed three years ago, and unchanged today, follows the contour of the tire carcass with no excess rubber at the edges to cause "shoulder breaks". Narrow rider strips permit the tread to yield to depressions and cling to the road, preventing skidding. This tough, pliable tread has the wear-resisting qualities for thousands of extra miles.

Such a tread must be placed on a carcass with the qualifications to withstand the terrific flexing that this design permits. The Firestone carcass is made of cords dipped in a rubber solution which not only saturates and insulates every fiber of every cord, but unifies sidewalls with carcass, avoiding separation under the extreme flexing.

Many Firestone Dealers are prepared to offer you a liberal allowance for your old tires, on a new set of Gum-Dipped Tires to start the motoring season.

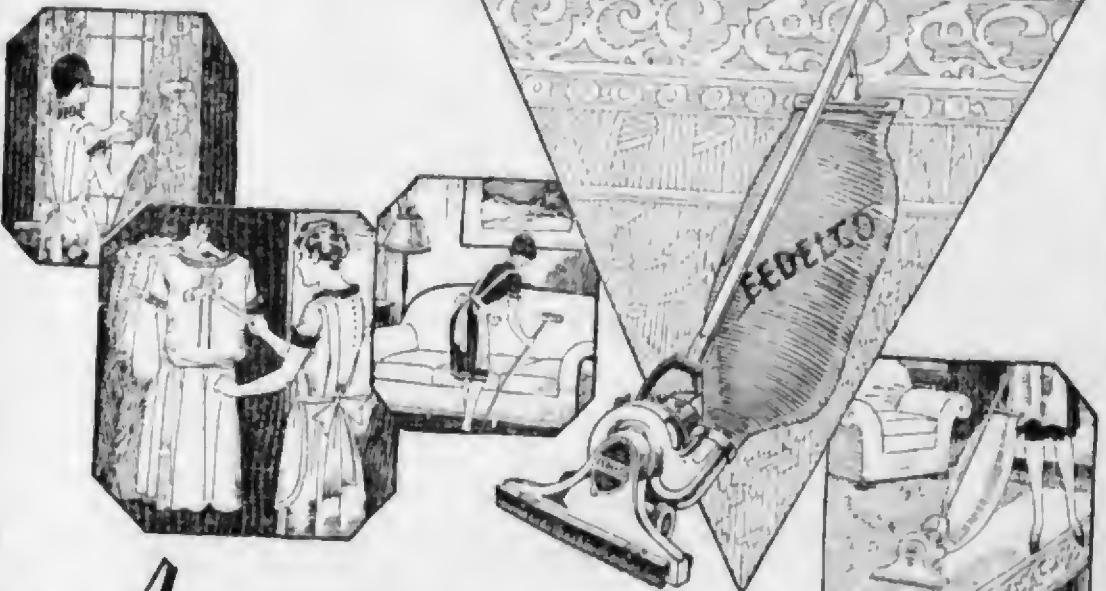

To meet a demand for a low price tire and tube, Firestone designed and manufactures, for Firestone Dealers only, Oldfield Tires and Tubes, which carry the Standard Manufacturers' Guarantee.

NASH
Leads the World in Motor Car Value

NASH has the power you need on the HILLS

Every Nash owner notices that he has very little gear shifting to do on hills, no matter how steep the grades may be. Nash is a very powerful motor car. There is nothing half-hearted or sluggish about its response—the motor never "talks back" at you—even though you are climbing mountains. One reason is the more than adequate power designed into every Nash motor car. Nash engineering has provided reserve energy for situations that tax the resources of other cars, and extend their engines to the point of strain. Another reason for the powerful performance of Nash is 7 bearings. 7 bearings in every Nash model, instead of 3 or 4, means that power is not thrown away by crankshaft "whip." Proper bearing support conserves energy that older motor types waste.

Quick acceleration — powerful responsiveness—such as Nash provides, is a safety factor you cannot overlook. It is invaluable on the hills, very handy in traffic.

When you select your next car, be sure to see how unfavorably the power and pick-up of other cars compare to Nash, before you decide! There are 26 models priced from $865 to $2090 f. o. b. factory.

ORDINANCE

AN ORDINANCE FOR REGULATING THE DISPOSAL OF SEWAGE, INDUSTRIAL WASTES AND REFUSE INTO STREAMS WITHIN THE FOX RIVER CONSERVANCY DISTRICT OF THE STATE OF ILLINOIS.

WHEREAS it appears to the Board of Trustees of the Fox River Conservancy District of the State of Illinois, that there is need for immediate control over the entrance of pollution of various kinds into water courses within the boundaries of the Fox River Conservancy District.

THEREFORE, be it ordained by the Board of Trustees of the Fox River Conservancy District of the State of Illinois:

Section 1. That no Municipal Corporation, private corporation, partnership or individual shall enter into contracts for the extension of any existing sewerage system, nor shall any such extensions be built by day labor or otherwise until the plans and specifications for such extensions have been submitted to and have received the approval in writing of the Trustees of said Conservancy District and also until the Trustees of said Conservancy District shall have prescribed the method of final disposal of sewage from such sewerage systems and its extensions; the Trustees of said Conservancy District however, may reserve the right to grant temporary permission for the continued discharge of sewage through existing sewer outlets pending such time as suitable sewage treatment works are installed.

Section 2. That no Municipal Corporation, private corporation, partnership or individual shall enter into a contract for the installation of, nor shall any work be done by day labor or otherwise on any sewers or sewerage system having an additional or new outlet into any body of water within the boundaries of said Conservancy District unless there is provided in connection with such outlet adequate treatment works to render the discharge of the effluent from such sewers or sewerage system into any body of water within said Conservancy District inoffensive, and further that no contracts for such sewers or sewerage systems shall be entered into, nor shall any work be undertaken, by day labor or otherwise, until complete plans and specifications for such sewers or sewerage systems, treatment works and all other appurtenances have been submitted to and received the approval in writing of the Trustees of said Conservancy District.

Section 3. That no Municipal Corporation, private corporation, partnership or individual shall enter into contract for the construction of any sewage treatment works, nor shall any work on such sewage treatment works be performed by day or otherwise until complete plans and specifications for such treatment works have been submitted to and received the approval in writing of the Trustees of said Conservancy District.

Section 4. That no Municipal Corporation, private corporation, partnership or individual shall discharge into any body of water within the boundaries of said Conservancy District, any liquid or solid wastes or refuse of any kind whatsoever unless express permission in writing of the Board of Trustees of said Conservancy District is first secured for such discharge.

Section 5. That no Municipal Corporation, private corporation, partnership or individual shall enter into contract for the installation or construction of any public water supply works or water purification works serving more than five houses, nor shall such works be installed by day labor or otherwise until complete plans and specifications for such works have been submitted to and received the approval in writing of the Board of Trustees of said Conservancy District.

Section 6. That no Municipal Corporation, private corporation, partnership or individual shall establish any factory, industrial works, garbage reduction work, nor any business whatsoever producing any wastes, liquid or solid, that may enter any body of water within said Conservancy District unless such wastes are adequately treated so that their discharge into any such body of water will not create objectionable conditions, be prejudicial to public health, comfort or convenience or endanger fish life and furthermore that no such works or industries shall be built or placed in operation without the approval in writing of the Trustees of said Conservancy District.

Section 7. That any officer or officers of any Municipal Corporation or private corporation, or any partner or individual, who fails to comply with this Ordinance shall be fined in the sum of not exceeding Five Hundred ($500.00) dollars or be subject to imprisonment in the County jail for not exceeding ninety (90) days, or both in the discretion of the Court, and further that any officer of any Municipal Corporation or private corporation, or any partner or individual who, in defiance of this Ordinance, discharges or is responsible for discharging sewage, wastes, or refuse into a stream shall be fined in the sum of not exceeding one hundred ($100.00) dollars for each offense, each day during which such discharge takes place being considered an individual offense, or be subject to imprisonment in the County jail for not more than thirty (30) days or both, in the discretion of the Court.

Section 8. That nothing in this Ordinance shall be construed as superseding or interfering with any authority relating to water supply and sewage granted to the State Department of Health and to the Department of Purchases and Construction, nor shall it be construed as superseding or interfering with any rules and regulations established by such state departments under authority granted to them.

Section 9. Whenever any instructions for the operation of existing sewage treatment works are submitted to local authorities by the Trustees of the Fox River Conservancy District, it shall be the Charles Pantozza and Walter Keywitz, two youths who admitted the robbery of the J. E. Harrison & Sons store at Greenwood of merchandise of various kinds were given a hearing at Woodstock last week and freely admitted the offense. They appeared to look upon the robbery as an escapade and spoke glibly of how it was "pulled" of it as being a "practice" job, and of their intention to "stick up" a pay-roll, and "grab off" some $14,000. Since they were unable to produce bail to the amount of $5,000 each they now are being given time for thought while languishing in the county jail until they receive a hearing.

The new St. Joseph's school at Libertyville, recently finished at a cost of $85,000 was formally dedicated last week with a dedicatory mass.

John F. Schmidt, register of deeds for Kenosha county, who was recently acquitted by a jury on charges of embezzlement count funds, has filed a bill for $1,000 with the county board, representing attorney's fees for his defense. Schmidt has found a statute which declares that when a county officer is brought to trial on charges growing out of his official duties and is then acquitted, the county bringing the action must pay the expenses the defendant incurred in the trial.

He was sent to the state hospital for the insane and thus far efforts to locate relatives or friends have been unavailing.

The motor cycle police force of Lake Forest has been increased this week and are working hard to make Antioch a success as a baseball town again. The hitting has been light but 20 walks and 5 hits batters the last two games will help bring up the hitting record. The championship of Lake County is their goal and if supported by the people of Antioch and vicinity their chances are exceedingly bright. So far the club has not made expenses but with the warm weather coming there are enough fans around here to support a good amateur team.

Next Sunday Avon will come to Antioch with a strong line-up composed mostly of Lake Villa and Antioch boys. Antioch defeated Avon 1 to 0 in an earlier practice game and next Sunday's game should be a hot contest. Britton and Simpson are slated as Antioch battery and Smoak, J. Wallace, and Campbell for Avon.

In discussing the year's prospects Manager Lasco said, "The team is made up entirely of amateurs and the boys are practising twice a week by the addition of a new officer who will be detailed to park and beach duty.
